

150th ANNIVERSARY RE-RIDE OF THE PONY EXPRESS

The Pony Express ran mail from 1860-1862. This service provided over one half million Americans living in the western region of the United States much needed mail from home. To receive a letter from the east would take about two months. The Pony Express would move the mail from St. Joseph, Missouri to Sacramento, California, 1,966 miles in just 10-14 days! For information on how you can be part of this historic celebration call:
